

Range Profile at Brattvall

To give the competitors an idea of how long flagpoles they need an approximate measurement is done from 3 benches at the Brattvall Range.

Bench 17 are more representative for benches in general than benches at the outer ends. The area is rather flat but have minor bumps and cavities in som areas and the measurements are not taken at such points att the range.

The soil contains mainly of sand and the area is covered with low vegetation, despite a minor area in front of the targetstand at 100m. It's easy to put flagpoles in to the ground and to have them to withstand strong winds.
